

GOD HAS ONLY ONE RELIGION:

ALL RELIGIONS WORSHIP THE SAME GOD!

From my observations it seems that far more people are concerned about seeking wealth and possessions in this physical world, than they are about building spiritual treasures and seeking the Grace of God, which in turn is the True wealth mentioned in the Scriptures. They don't seem to realize that all of their physical possessions will leave them, even their physical bodies, while their spiritual souls will live on; yet they spend their time hoarding material possessions, which will only be left behind for someone else to use or to misuse (when they could have used it wisely, in helping others).

Even most of my acquaintances from India, which is a place with a great spiritual background and a wealth of spiritual knowledge, who professed to be practicing their religion, disappointed me with their greed and their love for money and personal gain in this world, and their lack of compassion for others outside of their families and religions.

Remember we cannot take love nor money with us when we depart this life; we must expend them both during our lifetime in the service of God. Remember Jesus' parable about the talents (money), how the talents was 'love' and 'the neighbor is God, who has given to man all that he (man) hath, with life itself, so that, (man) living well in this world, God may have praise, and man the glory of paradise.' Also remember Jesus' instruction to the rich man: to sell all that he has and distribute it to the poor, this is how we build-up treasures in heaven, which assures us a home in heaven.

As the Buddha was Enlightened with the Knowledge of God through much austerity and meditation, I also am Enlightened, with the Knowledge of God, but through the meditating on the Word of God, as He showed It to His servants, who maintained It in their teachings.

Enlightenment brings about peace as it enables one to endure all situations of life, knowing that his faith in God is unyielding because he knows the Father in all things. There is no situation that his faith cannot overcome, if he lives in the Word. True overcoming is to be relieved of the agitations of this world (Nirvana) due to the recognizing of and the seeking of the Light that is within each of us, which is our onboard source of strength, which will enable us to prevail over the darkness that is prevalent in this world. This brings credence to the phrase 'let your little light shine'.

The Holy Spirit has shown me the true Character of God, which enables me to recognize the Truth when it is presented. With the combination of sincere desire to know God, coupled with the guidance of the Holy Spirit, then the exposure to the words of Truth that have already been uttered, brings about Enlightenment in one's inner-soul. This is why the Truth that is present in the other writings, apart from the Bible, attracted the attention of my inner-soul in such a strong and positive way, because I desire to know only God, not ideas of man.

Krishna, Buddha, Jesus, and Muhammad were all sent with a universal Message from God. It does not matter what your religion is, the revelations and the judgments that they revealed are for all people. God is not a respecter of religion. With God there is but one religion, and that is to totally submit to Him in Truth.

All of the true Believers of God are of One Family. The Christ that occupied the mortal body of Krishna is the same Christ that occupied the mortal body of Jesus. As the Buddha recognized the Truth in Krishna's teachings, so does this same Truth radiate in the teachings of Jesus. And as the prophet Muhammad (PBUH) taught the Law of the Prophets of God, and in his emphasizing the Gospel of Jesus, so did he too confirm the true Word of God.

The Word revealed by Krishna, which brings about the state of 'Brahman', is the same Truth that was revealed by The Buddha, which brings about 'Enlightenment'. That is the same Word that Jesus taught, which brings about the state of being 'Born Again'; also this same message, which brings about the condition of being 'Saved', was reinforced by the Messenger of God: the prophet Muhammad.

May the world accept God's Truth in Peace, and in the Faith of the Messiah.
